

We are a group known as the Hearts of Miromar
Our goal is to enjoy camaraderie so far!
But we will also strive to help those in need
Because should anyone call, we'll be there indeed.

We're a group of women from many states
Yet we live as one behind Miromar's gates
Between us there is laughter, love and caring
So we decided all of these we should be sharing.

The goal is to meet at a different place
Giving residents a chance to meet face to face.

We will eat, discuss needs and plan
And we'll do it all without a man!

There's already a sense of community here
We're just trying to put it in the next gear.
Let's enjoy each other and help when there's a call
We, as one, can stand mighty tall.

by Jill Finatri